Grooming Philosophy

Our personnel are qualified and seasoned professionals with patient, humane and effective animal handling skills.

We are attuned to the body language and cues your pet gives us during the grooming procedure. We can assure you that no pet is ever treated inappropriately.

Resistance to the grooming procedure is normal. Quite often, we are challenged with a pet who has had a bad experience at the groomer. At Twin Peaks, we take the time to reestablish a trusting relationship with the utmost kindness and expertise.

Because we are working with live animals and we want to devote enough time to do a good job, we will keep your pet for several hours. To minimize your pet's stress, please pick your pet up as soon as the groomer calls.

If you must cancel your appointment, please call as soon as possible so another pet may be scheduled for his or her spa day.
